

Historic Lakeview Cemetery

Lakeview Cemetery is classified as a historic site of Washington County and is located at

450 Queenan Avenue North in Lakeland, MN

For more history or related questions, you may contact the Washington County Historical Society at 651.439.5956 or visit via email at information@wchsmn.org.

<http://projects.wchsmn.org/reference/sites/lakeview-cemetery-lakeland/> or

---

A Peek Inside the Historic Lakeview Cemetery

Many long-time Lakeland residents may be surprised to find out there is even a cemetery here. It can be found at 450 Queenan Avenue North, with an official address just given last year.

Lakeview Cemetery is classified as a historic site according to the Washington County archives, as well as the Washington County Historical Society. However, any questions regarding the historic site would best be directed to the cemetery's long-time actuary—David Krear, who has served in his role for over 33 years. He plays an integral role for family members seeking a forever home for their loved ones who have past. And, he started off with virtually no experience in doing so. He states the volunteer position requires patience when serving family members in choosing a burial plot, as well as good record-keeping skills. Despite, his decades of work much of the history of the site remains a mystery even to him.